

Feeding of the poor and fight against hunger INDIA

Every day an average of 1,000 children die from diarrheal diseases and malnutrition in India. Almost a third of these children are under five years old, they are underweight and much too small for their age.

Around 800 mal- and undernourished Adivasi children and 100 malnourished mothers are supplied with milk and one egg twice a week by the milk and egg program from our partner ALMA (small congregation with almost 400 local churches) in the district of Nellore. This gives them enough protein and nutrients that are essential for their healthy development respectively for production of breast milk. The distribution is carried out in 15 different villages by many volunteers from ALMA.

Yelamma's husband works as a rickshaw driver and spends his little-earned money on alcohol and cigarettes. In order to feed herself and their children, Yelamma tried to earn money through hard work in the fields. But it was hardly doable to work all day in the field and to look after their children. Neither from her husband nor from anyone else had she got support. She and her children were taken into the milk and egg program and are now supplied daily with the essentials.

What is it about?

Suffering and socially-vulnerable families, especially children and mothers, are supplied by these feedings of the poor in Mumbai, Kolkata and Nellore with the necessary foods. In addition, in many villages, hundreds of farmers get support through training, seed and micro credits, so that they can provide themselves and their families independently.

Prayer requests

- For Yelamma and her children as well as for the more than 800 other children and mothers, which can be supplied with the essentials by the program

EBM INDIA Children's homes INDIEN

The children's home „Compassion“ in Taloulong (Manipur) is operated by the community in Manipur. Most of the accommodated children are victims of the conflicts between two tribes, the Kookies and the Nagas, who have fought against each other for years. Children were left whose parents have died or fled to Myanmar because of the conflict. Pastor Vumthang had initially taken up with his wife some of these children in their home.

Someday, he had the vision that many more children need a good home than he can keep in his house. His congregation has shared this vision with him. Meanwhile, there is an orphanage with 50 children aged 3 to 18 years old.

The children's home has a large garden with vegetables, fruit and a rice field. And they keep their own animals, such as pigs, ducks, geese, chickens and fish. Thus, the children get an excellent balanced diet. The children can reach the community on foot. They have their steady place and their spiritual home there. Honorary working parishioners accompany and take care for them in the so-called „study time“ (homework time).

What is it about?

Our 15 children's homes provide a home for orphans or half-orphans that come from diverse difficult backgrounds and have no reliable parental home. Here, they experience loving attention and care as well as school education and they attain better opportunities for their future.

Prayer requests:

- For Vumthang Sithhou (director of the Children's Home „Compassion“), his family and the many employees of the congregation in Taloulong
- For strength, consolation and love for the 50 children at the orphanage in Taloulong

Medical Work INDIEN

The „Christian Medical College“ (CMC) Ludhiana is „the mother of IN-DIENHILFE“, which has become „EBM INDIA“ in 2008. Our commitment to India began with a collection campaign in Germany for a social fund of the hospital in northern India in 1960.

Today, the CMC Ludhiana is one of the most prestigious hospitals of India. A unique feature of the CMC Ludhiana is the rehabilitation program for physically disabled children and adolescents. In this section, the senior physician, Dr. Santhosh, set himself the goal that children and young people whose families had come to terms with the physical disabilities of their children, get operated and learn to walk again by training and physiotherapy. Often there are children and adolescents who had suffered fractures in accidents that were not dealt with and since then, have no longer been able to walk. But there are also children and young people who were born with (treatable) disabilities or suffering from immobility caused by polio.

In the left picture you can see Kalpana Giri. She was born with crooked grown and stunted feet. In January 2013, she came to CMC Ludhiana crawling on all fours. After three surgeries and long physiotherapy she could leave the CMC in April 2014 on her own feet.

What is it about?

Medical aid is an essential component of preserving life. EBM INDIA supports hospitals, eye clinics, eye camps, and leprosy colonies so that free medical treatment, nursing and care can be provided for the poor and underprivileged.

Prayer Requests

- For Dr. Santhosh, chief physician of the rehabilitation program for handicapped people in CMC Ludhiana and his many co-workers
- For the many people in need who find help and get healed in the CMC Ludhiana
