15 Bible Women Are Bringing The Good News To The Poor

God carries the poor and the needy. He gives us the commission to care for the orphans and the widows. Jesus makes helping them a priority and we are called to care for them, to visit them, to love them.

15 women (BWWEW*) want to fulfill this commission and therefore are traveling as Bible women. They have access to the poorest of the poor and are able to share the good news with them. Thanks to their great work the churches are growing every year. Despite all their problems in their own families, these women are determined to keep serving the LORD.

Mrs Rahelu from Biccavolu is a very strong and courageous woman. She is working in her village among the so called untouchables (Chowdaries). At first Rahelu was rejected by the villagers. She had to overcome many obstacles in order to build the church in the village. But by now she is "a mother" to many. She looks after the construction of the church building with great care. The works have not been finished yet due to lack of money.

What is it about?

We support churches in their planting process (grants for chapels) and in their programs for teaching and discipleship (volunteer trainings). Many men, women and children get in touch with Christian faith. Our communities in India are usually a home for the lower castes or outcastes – the poor population. It is good for these people that their needs are shared, that they bring their concerns before God, honor Jesus in praise and pray for each other.

Prayer requests:

- For strength and courage for our 15 Bible women.
- For more people to be reached with the good news.

Children's Homes INDIA

They Have Seen So Much - Just Not A Proper Home

Suffering, violence, being parentless - this is day-to-day life for many neglected street kids in India. They don't know a loving and warm home.

The "Angel Children's Home" in Akkagaripeta (South East India) is directed by one of our partner organisations called Nellore Baptist Field Association (NPBSS). They are offering a home for 44 children at the moment. Here the children can have a safe life and a chance for a dignified future. They experience the loving care of the staff, they enjoy the fellowship, and they are going to school and to church regularly.

Manivarma, Subramanyam, Kumaraswamy, and Rajkumar are siblings. (Photo). Their father is an alcoholic and he's violent. At home they would neither receive food nor clothes. Their family had no money for rent. A pastor brought these four kids to the children's home. The mother received housing close by the home. They have been here for two years now. The situation has improved a lot during this time. Now they have everything they need: love, a stable home, regular meals, and a school education.

What is it about?

Our 15 children's homes offer a home to orphans or semi-orphans, who come from a wide range of problem areas and do not have a reliable parent's home. Here, they receive loving care and support as well as school education and a chance for a better future.

Prayer requests:

- We are thanking God for all the many children that have found a new and loving home here in Nellore.
- For the staff that are concerned for the common good for the children.

Medical Work INDIA

Meeting The needs!

The Christian Medical Centre (CMC) in Pithapuram is a hospital which engages especially with destitute patients by offering them free medical treatment. Usually they treat about 100-120 patients a day. From there they also execute eye camps: doctors, nurses, and social workers go to about 125 surrounding villages in order to examine people and to transport them to hospitals for the operations. Last year alone they were able to do about 1300 cataract surgeries free of charge.

Perumalla (28) has lost her eyesight three years ago. In addition to that she was suffering from a bleeding caused by a tumor in her uterus. She was brought into the hospital. The doctor suggested to remove the uterus so her problems would be solved. The operation was performed and seven days later the patient was allowed to leave the hospital. Due to her financial situation and her blindness the hospital waived the fees.

What is it about?

Medical help is an essential part of sustaining life. EBM INTERNATIONAL supports hospitals, eye clinics, eye camps and leper colonies in India to provide free medical and health care for the poor and underprivileged.

Prayer requests:

- For all the many patients that are experiencing healing here.
- We are grateful for all the tireless commitment of all the doctors and staff.

School Education And Vocational Training INDIA

CREAM - A Campus With Perspective And Future Prospects

Besides the orphanage and the church ministry, CREAM also supports a vocational training center where young people get a one year training in the areas of computer, electrical engineering, engine technology, and sewing.

On the same campus there is also a kindergarten for 30 poor and neglected children as well as an English Medium School (comparable to secondary level) which is designed for 100 students. They enjoy a loving environment in classes as well as one daily hot meal. CREAM supports another three sewing schools in the nearby churches which entail 45 training places. After graduating from the one year program the students receive a sewing machine as a starting capital. Students only pay one fourth of the total price.

Besides school facilities we also support talented young people by giving them scholarships. Vandana for example is originally from an orphanage from CREAM and now successfully graduated as a nurse from a hospital in Pithapuram. By now she is married and is earning her own money.

What is it about?

What we take for granted is a high privilege for children in India. Only 2/3 of all children in primary school age actually attend a school. Our schools and training centers are often crucial for their future and whether they can shape and develop their lives independently.

Prayer requests:

- For all the students that are getting a future prospect here.
- We are grateful for all the staff of CREAM and their faithful ministry.
