

CHRISTMAS 2017

Changing the lives of children at risk

A big part of our integral mission is the work with children at risk. In the children's homes and the social centers, at schools and education programs they are being challenged and given the most necessary of things. Many children and their families are being affected positively by the love of Jesus just like mentioned in the following examples.

In the social center Macia in Mozambique over 30 children are being taken care of. They are being attended to; they are receiving warm meals and help with school and everyday life. For a group of children with disabilities the center has become a place of refuge. Our missionary Sara Marcos is working with the families of these children and is encouraging women to cope their daily lives on their own.

Every day about 1000 children are dying in India due to diarrhea and malnutrition. Because of our "Milk and Egg Program" in Nellore, about 800 children and 100 mothers suffering from malnutrition are being given milk on a daily basis and an egg twice a week. This is a strong testimony for Jesus being side by side with the poorest.

On the margin of Mendoza in Argentina is the social center, in the hotspot of poverty, crime, and drug trafficking. In 15 projects children, youths, and their families are being offered help. There is a feeding for the poor for about 300 children and health care offered on a daily basis. People are coming to believe in Jesus.

What is it about?

All our projects are church based. Partnering with local Baptist churches globally, we share Christ to bring justice, restoration and hope to our communities. We are committed to do so on a basis of equality through sharing and learning, giving and receiving. This is our mission.

Our values:

- integral mission
- equality
- partnership
- church based
- sustainability
